Compliance 103 Curriculum:

*prerequisite: Completion of Compliance 101 & 102

Compliance 103 is a one day scenario-based, role playing instruction course. We will work our way through 3 scenarios as they would occur in the workplace. Attendees will take on the roles of various corporate positions (i.e. CEO, CFO, Director of Human Resources) and work through scenarios to come to conclusions that are well thought-out and ethical.

Attendees will obtain the following:

- The ability to understand the depth, breadth, and consequences of internal investigations related to compliance.
- Appreciate the complexity of the various perspectives and internal roles represented throughout the scenarios.
- Understand the importance of the speed, accuracy and process management required to effectively mitigate internal claims to wrongdoing.
- Understand the importance of effective, active, and ongoing compliance planning as both a method of problem preemption, and as a key to the uniform enforcement of company policies and procedures.

Who Should Attend?

- Owners, CEO's, CFO's
- Ambulance Operators & Managers
 - Billing Managers
 - Compliance Officers
- Business Office Managers

Since the year 2003, the OIG has recommended a compliance program for ambulance providers in combating fraud, waste, and abuse
